

NNSTOY

TEACHERS LEADING

To whom it may concern:

The National Network of State Teachers of the Year provides virtual professional development courses to help connect, support and mobilize educators so they can advocate for the issues and practices that provide all students with exceptional and equitable learning opportunities. Our courses are designed by award-winning, highly effective National and State Teachers of the Year, but your district must determine if a course meets specific district/state standards. Your educator:

_____ (your name) requests that you please review the course

_____ (course title). The course description, syllabus and instructor biographies are available online at:

<http://www.nnstoy.org/learning-opportunities/> to assist you in determining if this course meets your district/state requirements.

NNSTOY courses are created by nationally recognized, highly effective teachers, for teachers. Courses include videos and Companion Guides with additional resources, strategies to share with PLCs and additional resources.

All courses:

- Are based on best practices of nationally recognized educators
- Contain standards-based content
- Incorporate additional resources, essential questions and learning outcomes
- Provide real-world strategies for implementation
- Allow participants to connect with the facilitators during a 2 hour Q&A at the end of the course

For more information about NNSTOY, please contact us at Lauren@nnstoy.org or visit www.nnstoy.org.